The latest Disease, the Corona Virus disease was first found in Wuhan, China December 2019. It began spreading to other countries, Italy, USA, Iran while it came into Nigeria on 28th February 2020 by an Italian worker.

So far, there have been over 2 million cases and 170,000 deaths in the world. This virus is highly contagious and can be gotten from touching a victim and then touching your eyes, nose and mouth. Though, this virus can be controlled by washing hands regularly and disinfecting public surfaces, it has really been fast spread.

This disease has led to the shutting down of schools, business companies, and even countries. As business close to help prevent the transmission of COVID-19, financial concerns and job losses are one of the first human impacts of the virus. Despite this fear, businesses and communities in many regions have shown a more altruistic response in the face of crisis.

Global tourism, travel and hospitality companies closing down affects SMEs globally. This in turn, affects many people, typically the least well-paid and those self-employed or working in informal environment in the gig economy or in part-time work with zero-hour contracts.

Fear of the unknown can often lead to feelings of panic.
