Though the world is going through a global pandemic at the moment. Business places and places of income are losing income and some are shutting down. Everyone is feeling the effect of this global economic shutdown in one way or another. Some of the most pressing matters are how badly the economy is being affected and also how individuals are faring as many people are no longer receiving income as the unemployment level of every country has increased. While some are sad and depressed about this, other innovative minds have found new ways to make ends meet, while some industries haven't been affected at all. In fact, some companies are benefitting so much from this pandemic.

Examples of industries that could benefit from this pandemic are:

- Online medical care
- Delivery services □ Medical supplies
- Pharmaceuticals
- Insurance companies
- Health-related industries
- E-commerce- for example Jumia, Konga, Amazon, etc.
- Online entertainment- for example online streaming sites like Netflix, Hulu, Dolby
- Video calling apps/companies
- Video game companies
- Telecommuting related industries

In the end we can only hope that this pandemic is a black swan event which will lead the world to an upward trajectory in the economies, governments and businesses.
