Time management is key importance of success but that success can only be acknowledged when you have a planned or realised goals, and this take strong discipline and commitment to meet that goal with a well economised timing.

In my areas of field as a student, I need time management to cover a wide range of courses in other to meet up to my expect goal of first class which to achieve like earlier would require discipline, i.e. going for all my classes and doing everything required to do and commitment commitment comes in when I follow laid out plan to success, i.e. reading, practicing, doing assignment, tests and exams and putting the best required to achieve my realized goal.
