

Name: Nwadike Reginald-Francis .C
Department: Computer Engineering
Matrix Number: 17/Eng02/052
Course: Engineering Law and Managerial Economics.

Short Test

Question 1.

My names are Nwadike Reginald-Francis. Ever since I got into the university I've always wanted to learn how to be a proper host, face fears of being shy and also video editing. Through out this pandemic(in which I greatly regret for the world) I've been able to take a good look at my self, study my self and try to fix some wrong characters and behaviors. I also went further in realizing my passion for creating things, event management and also my love for software engineering. I tried my best to be more bold in front of people, also took my time to talk to my self in front of the mirror practicing on how to become a better host. I took up some novels too to help improve my vocabulary as that is one of the key essentials in becoming a host.

In addition to that, I tried doing some short short clips to better my self in video editing and I must say I'm doing real good. I appreciate the school for always taking out their time to encourage the students to be better at what they do and learn to acquire new skills.